SHORT DESCRIPTION

The aim of the program is to train specialists in economics and business using the basic skills acquired in the fields of international-, micro- and macroeconomics, international politics, European integration, international law, regional studies, civilization/globalization and their chosen specialisations that enable them to analyse, plan, make decisions and control the activities of business organisations and institutions in an international context.

The program provides a Master's level education and as such, it expects students to arrive with a sound theoretical basis acquired in their earlier Bachelor's studies. The program aims to expand the knowledge acquired at a Bachelor's level, and intends to teach students how to put the acquired skills into practice. This purpose is accomplished in two ways: Lecture-type courses are offered with the aim of presenting theoretical issues, whereas practice-oriented seminar-type courses are launched with the purpose of giving room for debates, interactive discussions, as well as group or individual presentations on current and relevant topics of the field.
